

Black Terns

Thursday, March 21 at 7:00 PM
William R. Gilstorf Meeting Room
St. Clair Shores Public Library

The Detroit Audubon Society will introduce the latest research on Black Terns. Black Terns are small, graceful birds that lead a double life: in summer in North America they are marsh birds, but in winter in South America they become seabirds along tropical coasts. Learn about the steep decline in numbers for this avian and how local research at the St. Clair Flats is adding to knowledge about the bird. Everyone is welcome to this free event!

The St. Clair Shores Historical Commission is pleased to announce the latest in the annual series of lectures in memory of Joseph Laurence Maison. Joseph's daughter, Lorelei Maison Rockwell and her husband, Wayne Kennedy, have underwritten three lectures on topics such as natural history, gardening, the arts, and the Great Lakes to be held each spring.
